The following is a transcript for the video message delivered by Jason Aleem, the Chief of Real Estate Services of Redfin Corporation (“Redfin”), to agents of Redfin on March 10, 2025.

Howdy Redfin:

Jason Aleem here with an update. I hope you’ve had a chance to read Glenn’s email to agents. I know this change is massive and brings up a lot of questions and a lot of emotions and we’re going to jump into it. Before doing so, let’s take a look at the required legal text about the sensitive topic we’re covering. So we’ll take a look...you see this one slide here. We’re going to sit here for a second. Alright...we’re going to let this other slide go... alright, I’m going to stop sharing and we’re going to just get into it now. Let’s talk, y’all.

So, let me just start off by saying I am so FIRED UP. I am excited for what this deal means for our ability to grow and create more wealth opportunities for all of you. It’s all about the main points Glenn made; after the deal closes, you will see, first up:

More customers: Rocket expects to make an investment in our online audience, which should increase brokerage demand, while also broadening the exposure that we can offer our listing customers. We’ll introduce Rocket to our customers, and Rocket can introduce us to some of the many people who call Rocket every year about how to put money into or take money out of a home. We believe that no other brokerage can match the reach that Rocket will give us.

Number 2: Better tools. Rocket also plans an AI investment in agent tools, which will make it easier for you to connect with just the right customer at just the right time. Imagine using voice commands from your car to send an email or an SMS follow-up in your style, to the customers most in need of attention. In 2024, Rocket’s automation in mortgage qualification alone saved over 1 million hours of team members’ time.

Third: Better lending service, competitive rates. Rocket plans to retain Bay Equity’s best loan officers. Rocket knows, I mean Rocket knows, you need one person to call, available nights and weekends, to make sure purchase loans don’t hold up the whole sale. As the nation’s premier lender, its cost of capital is lower than ours, which means it can offer competitive rates, even on jumbo loans. We expect our longstanding strategy to integrate brokerage, mortgage and title service to be more important than ever.

We’ll be staying in close touch over the coming weeks to keep you updated. But like Glenn said, there’s only one thing – ONE thing – for you to do now: that’s take care of customers to drive sales. We are the best agents in the industry and now we’re getting on a rocket launcher – no pun intended (maybe) – to help us grow even faster, serve more customers even better and create more opportunities for our families.

Talk more soon and hit me up if you want to chat. Let's get after it!
